National Ski Patrol Hires New Finance and Operations Director

The National Ski Patrol (NSP) recently welcomed Ellen White, CPA-CA as its new Finance and Operations Director. White comes to NSP from 9Health Fair where she served as the Chief Financial Officer.

“We are so excited to have Ellen join our team,” said Executive Director Meegan Moszynski. “Her background in high-level financial planning and strategy, along with her extensive accounting skills and management experience, will help us maximize our resources, streamline our operations and plan for the future.”

At NSP, White will work with the organization’s leadership to develop and implement financial strategies to benefit the organization. She will oversee the accounting department, organizational operations such as insurance, IT functions and member registration systems. She will also be responsible for facility operations and employee benefits.

“I am thrilled to join NSP and I look forward to working with staff members to maintain the organization’s financial health and help further NSP’s mission,” White said.

White’s background is broad; it includes experience in consulting, for-profit and nonprofit organizations, and financial operations and reporting for a start-up. After stints with Ernst and Young and KPMG, she rose through the ranks with several different financial positions at Microsoft Corporation. Her nonprofit experience includes executive roles at the National Sports Center for the Disabled and 9Health Fair.

White is a seasoned skier and mountain biker.

About the National Ski Patrol:

The National Ski Patrol is a federally-chartered 501(c)(3) nonprofit membership association.
